STUCK

With vast experience in growing businesses, buying and selling companies, and coaching, Jerry, Paul and Jim realized that they all shared the same passion for helping companies succeed. They have worked together for years and after their most recent accomplishment, the merger of EMTEQ with a publicly-traded aerospace manufacturer, they envisioned creating STUCK, LLC. Over time they have developed the right tools to succeed including the development of a one-page business plan and the expertise to execute it. By coaching owners/leaders of businesses towards success, investing in the right businesses and giving back to the community, more opportunities will present themselves to those who desire them and the world will be that much more of a better place - the STUCK vision.

TESTIMONIAL

“Kids deserve the best.”

This phrase is so much more than a tagline at Children’s Hospital of Wisconsin. It guides us in the work we do every day and keeps us committed to service excellence. We have been partners with Jerry for over 10 years, working to raise needed funds to support child advocacy programs. We are honored to partner with STUCK – because they share our passion and together we are committed to providing the best and safest care to kids.
